A Wicked Good Time

Hercules

Need to sell multiple Xena/Hercules Props and Wardrobe?

Lets have some fun selling on our terms without ebay fees and build our collections through other serious Xena and Hercules enthusiasts. We all need to sell items occasionally for various reasons so instead of dealing with the ebay rules and fees lets try selling among ourselves rendering a most satisfying and fun transaction for all.

We have all had a run in with unsavory sellers and buyers that lurk around on ebay so this will keep prop and wardrobe sales among our tight circle and we know they will be going to a good home!

You can run your own auction and Xena Prop House will announce the starting time and end of your auction with a comprehensive presentation of what you are selling then you set up the auction. The auction will be backed by XPH through assisting and referring readers and collectors to your designated auction time circulating your email and information throughout the duration of your auction. If you are a new reader and participant that I have never communicated with before and would like to announce your own auction no problem just give me one reference from a seasoned collector I can communicate with to verify your commitment to your auction before I can announce it. This is a great way to make quicker bulk sales but XPH will still keep "A Day in the Life" section for the casual individual sale items and for photo sales. I can announce multiple auctions so there is no need for a first come first serve basis.

GROUP MAILINGS

I can also do a group mailing with a general list of descriptions and prices of items you have for sale. Then you can sell them on a first come first serve basis to the collectors who respond to you. I have also done group mailings to let collectors know about items listed on ebay.

Contact Barbie at XPH and communicate that you would like to run an email auction or group mailing. Xena Prop House issues come out by the 15th of every month so you would need to make contact by the 7th of each month leaving time for the auction or group mailing to be worked up by me and announced in the issue. It would be suggested you start the auction or group mailing at least 4-7 days after the issue comes out on the 15th so readers have a chance to read about your items for sale introduce themselves as a potential bidder or buyer and your preparation to start receiving offers or bids. I will help you through the entire process however if you choose an auction you will be running the auction keeping records of the bidding activity, etc.

Any questions comments or suggestions on these auctions backed by Xena Prop House please email allaboutartgalry@aol.com Please read the Xena Prop House disclosure on the last page of this publication in red before announcing or participating in these auctions. -Barbie Arms-

Coming Home

Here we are displaying items that match back up with the props or wardrobe that were separated years ago and items available for trade or sale to bring a prop or costume together again.

I am on a mission to try and see if I can network collectors to bring wardrobe and props back together that got separated during the feverish Auctions. Everything was scattered to all four corners of the earth so this is a venture I truly enjoy, one prop at a time!

Owned by Mart

Here's a pic of what he thought was a horse head until it was seen with horns from Hercules episode "Norse by Norsevest". The horns were boxed up and he just thought they were spare parts for the makings of an amazon headdress or something, who would have ever thought they would have gone together. The head had the holes and the horns even had the wooden pegs and were cut at an angle to fit behind its ears. Mart still has another pair of horns if anyone has another head he can either sell his horns or buy the head. The second pair does not have pegs, but has peg holes.

4. Metal bracelets and necklace 5. Men's medium size shirt but with "Renee" tag.

6. Prop is a Roman sign. It is not a scroll since it is printed on a fairly inflexible plastic type material.

7. This is a foam sword, very light. Has a brown handle and unique gold colored hilt. Should be immediately recognizable if someone has seen it.

8. Silver cup

3. Bracelet

Here is a silver bracelet that came out of a box that was a brown carton labeled Gabrielle/Renée that had goodies in it! Can anyone verify the validity of these bracelets worn by Gabrielle?

4. Gauntlets

Here are Gauntlets made really well of woven black leather strips. They say Kora and also say Emma inside. They were supposed to be from Young Hercules. So far, Kora in Young Hercules did not wear them and I have no idea about an Emma they are 2 different people as the actress who played Kora is not named Emma, could have been her stunt or double.

1. This looks very familiar to me but I do not know what episode it was seen in, can anyone help? The dangles are the same as seen on the cherish costume and armbands Lucy wore in X 1 E 17 "The Royal Couple of Thieves". Interesting how the prop makers re used designs.

1. Metal Greaves
2. Very beautiful intricate Spear.

3. Gauntlets

4. Dagger and Sheath

5. Leather Wardrobe

It is made of a vinyl soft leather like material and lined with soft cotton material and all decorations are hand painted. All the designs are Egyptian especially with the Egyptian eyes and what seems to me to be Isis in the front. It consists of a set of gauntlets, a dress and a set of greaves.

6. Amazon Necklace

7. Armor with wing pattern

8. Piece of cloth with a dragon

9. Amazon Mask

Have you seen this in an amazon episode?

10. Here are 2 daggers, one is a standard dagger the other is a FX dagger that holds a blood tube in the handle so you can squeeze it a little as you cut someone and have the blood cut appear. It has a thin tube with holes in it that runs the full length of the blade but the holes are only from the tip to about half way down. The handles are made of closed cell foam with a resin coating and then painted but the blades are rubber, kinda neat little daggers measuring 9" long that look identical in appearance.

Has anyone seen these daggers?

11. Here is a material, leather, beaded, feather headband. It has a feathered type wing look on each side with gold beads all the way around and fastens in the back with two long braided leather ties. It is labeled on the inside with a marker 'Artemis'.....but is it from Hercules or Young Hercules.. don't recall seeing Artemis in XWP with a light colored outfit, seems like she always had black or dark brown outfits with that pointed or horned looking headpiece. It is very well made so it probably is a lead item.

Please contact proxyblue@aol.com if you have seen any of these items

Items For Sale

For Sale by Torey
Hercules complete costume
• $7,500 or best offer.

It is COMPLETE and it has the costume tags and IAW COA and everything is HIS. It even has mints in his little leather pouch (probably for his close ups with the ladies)

Kevin Sorbo wore this full costume in the 6th season of Hercules. This same costume was also worn in the 100th episode of Xena- in God Fearing Child, where Hercules comes to visit her.

The detail on Kevin's left gauntlet is astounding. Kevin always said," When the gauntlets come on- I AM Hercules!"

The right gauntlet is the nicer of the two- with a red carnelian polished stone in it.

Please contact ldypegasus2002@aol.com for more information and pictures

3. Xena Stunt Boots

Here are Lucy's stunt boots and they come with the IAW COA showing that they are Lucy's with a label. Something else to be said about these boots- Lucy herself advertised these boots on her site stating them to be hers, as they were auctioned off for charity, along with quite a few other props and costumes of hers at the time. They are also her size so even though we know they aren't her hero boots, we know she obviously did some stunts on horseback, and these are equestrian boots. Lucy wore these English equestrian boots when she did limited stunt work on top of Tilly (Argo) the beautiful palomino mare she rode throughout the series. The boots are actually black painted brown to go with her brown leathers. They are a size 10 1/2 (her size) and are a rubber material not leather like her normal boots. $150

Asking a firm $199 for the sword it comes with a COA from a Hollywood Collectable Shop. This prop sword was used in the episode- Fallen Angel. It is a resin hilt with foam blade.

Animal Attraction

New Section

I started this new section as Xena loved and depended on Argo and we too love our pets. Each pet has a unique story so let's tell it!

Highway Man

Here is my 'Serephin dagger from 'Sacrifice' Don't even think about it!

The first story is about the youngest of my 3 cats named Highway. It is not hard to imagine how he got that name.

I owned an Art Gallery a few years back named 'All About Art' explaining my email address name. My business partner, Donna, was driving into town to do errands when she saw 3 tiny kittens tossed out of the car window in front of her. Two were hit instantly but this one little kitten hit the white line and only his tail was run over. Donna went back to pick him up and took him to a local vet. His tail had to be removed but no broken bones from hitting the ground while moving, thank goodness. In my wildest dreams I can't imagine how someone could do such a cruel act when they just could have dropped them off at a Vet Hospital or a shelter. I think they must have been thrown in a plastic bag because anytime he hears the sound of one he is 'GONE'. When I took him to my regular vet to start his vaccine schedule the young male vet came into the room and said hello there little Highway Man! So it stuck and I am so in love with my little guy.

Here is Dave's story about his white cat Holly, I highly suggest you get a box of tissues for this incredible story about love and devotion of the highest level. Xena would never have given up on Argo under any circumstances, nor did Dave give up on his Holly. I am proud to call Dave our Kindred Spirit, hail to you!

Holly's Story:

The first week of December in 2007 I had gone outside to let my chickens out from their pen for a run around in the backyard. As I always do I would go and check up on them every few minutes to make sure they were all right but this time when I went outside I decided to go and collect their eggs. So I walked into their pen and from the corner of my eye I saw this white flash and when I turned around it was a tiny kitten. The way my pen is set up there is a small section where the pen is up against the fence and only something very tiny could squeeze through there and that is where this cute little kitten was sitting but looked very squashed. I walked up to her calling 'hey little kitty' and then BANG she ran so fast out of the little gap and into the pen. I followed her and after a few minutes chase I ended up catching her with my bird net. She was so vicious and was trying to bite me, hissing none stop. So I put her in a cat cage in the dark to let her relax and calm down. I came back to check on her every so often but she kept trying to bite and attack, wouldn't let me even try to open the cage because every time I put my hand near it she would jump up against the wire to try to get me so she clearly wasn't a pet and was born in the wild.

I needed to feed her because her bones and ribs were starting to show so I had to think of an idea to get my hand in the cage to give her some food. I got a spoon full of cat food and stuck it through the wire, she swallowed it within seconds. All that night I slowly fed her but kept bringing the spoon closer and closer to me until I ended up feeding her by hand. The very next day she was in my arms and was the most affectionate kitten I had ever seen. It took a few weeks to get her very relaxed and comfortable with humans but when she was doing great I then introduced her to my older cat who is named Gabby and they became great friends but still have their little arguments here and there.

Now just under a year on it is November 2008 and one morning Holly is laying in front of my birds aviary because she loves to lay there up against the wire so my cockatiel named Xena loves to talk to Holly and Gabby. Xena loves to say hello and even loves to whistle at both the cats that SEXY WHISTLE TUNE like when a man will see a lady walk past and will whistle at her. I walked out this one morning recently and Holly was laying down not herself but I was in a rush to go to work so I thought maybe she was just a bit down because of the heat. That night I got home and Holly is still in the same spot, so I jumped into my car and took her straight to the Animal Hospital where they confirmed that Holly was pregnant which I already knew but they also said she has some sort of infection with a very high temperature.

I had to leave her there over night so they could give her antibiotics and put her on the drip due to dehydration. The Vet called me the next morning saying that she was worse and they needed to do several blood tests with X-Rays because they had no idea what sort of infection she had. Three days went by and every day the Vet would call me to let me know how Holly was doing. When I went to visit her at the hospital she looked terrible. She lost weight, didn't want to eat, wouldn't even walk or stand and her breathing was so bad that it was like she was gasping for air. I was then told they think the infection has now caused her to have fluid in her lungs so they had to do more X-Rays and Blood tests. The results showed she did have fluid in her lungs but they still didn't know why and what sort of infection it was.

Then like a miracle on the 4th day the Vet called me up and said Holly is better you can take her home tomorrow morning. I was so happy jumping for joy until the next morning I was called again by the Vet, this time he said Holly has taken a turn for the worse and suggested to put her to sleep or intensive care which will cost you $1000.00 or more plus the $560 you already owe for the past few days. I had a few hours to think about it and called them back and said this isn't good enough, one minute you tell me she is better and the next you tell me she needs to be put to sleep, also you can't tell me what sort of infection she has, the prices for blood tests and X-Rays seem to keep going up, do you guys know what you are doing?

I then told the Vet what my Mum told me we can't afford to put Holly into intensive care so can you please just give her an extra strong dose of Antibiotics for a day or so because we don't want to put her down. The Vet after arguing with us agreed and said ok we will do that but I'm telling you now that realistically it won't help her but at least it will give you a couple days to re think your decision.

The very next morning I called to see how Holly was and the news I got was amazing. They told me she is walking, eating and very alert so she will be able to come home. They said her temperature was back to normal and the fluid in her lungs disappeared and that her babies might still be alive but they weren't sure. Holly came home and started to eat again and in a few weeks she gave birth to 5 adorable kittens. Holly proved the Vet wrong and beat the odds never giving up, I didn't give up on her either.

The kittens are 12 days old now and I look at them all and think if I had listened to the Vet Holly wouldn't be here and neither would these 5 little angels.

Dave

Victoria, Australia

I feel this is a testament to everyday life to do what makes sense and listen to your OWN heart. When Holly got better the first time it was a sign that she was breaking through and trying so hard to fight. Dave listened to his inner voice and knew that she deserved a chance especially since there was no actual diagnosis. You are my hero Dave!

THANK YOU ALL FOR YOUR DONATIONS!

I run the auctions under ebay member name inthelightofthemoon2. I loved when Xena and Gabrielle would lie down at night under the stars and talk calmly after a LONG day.

The charity list is growing but the list will always stay in the publication. I am so grateful to Julie who started this chain of giving and am proud of each and every one of you who donated and participated in these auctions! Bravo to you all!

Anonymous Donation

A very generous donation was made to XPH. The donation is two VIP Tickets to see Lucy perform at the Roxy in L.A. during the Xena Con in January. Due to Lucy's involvement with REAF the tickets will go to the 'AIDS Project Los Angeles' to be given to an Aids patient that would like to have a nice evening out and forget about their health issues even for one night. Bravo!

“If The Shoe Fits”

This is a Q and A section to help get those important questions answered.

Q1 I recently purchased a dagger that I originally thought was a lighter weight resin, but on further examination, found that it is definitely coated in metal, or perhaps made of a very lightweight metal. It "sings" loudly when tapped against another metal object, whereas my resin daggers do not make this same melodic sound. It also feels like metal when you touch it, although it is painted gold over the metal parts and not "shiny" like you would expect metal to be. It is common knowledge and I believe verified by the Black Wolf (Roger) that the prop dept. used four different materials for their weapons: Foam, resin, rubber and metal. However, most metal weapons I have handled are definitely quite heavy. My dagger is clearly metal but not very heavy; in fact, not even as heavy as some of my resin daggers. Can anyone shed any light on what this may be made of or the process of electroplating? I thought in order to electroplate an item, the surface of the object to be electroplated also had to be metal for the charge to be conducted and the process to succeed. The dagger's origins are 100 percent genuine and it is from the set (it is a Livia style dagger) but this is the first time I have owned a dagger made of this material. Any thoughts? MORGAN

With Thanksgiving fast approaching, I decided that I would get a jumpstart on my list of what I am thankful for. Partially because it's a good reminder to myself that I am blessed, but mostly, because my mother will make me say it out loud later on, just like she has every year when the turkey is on the table and the mashed potatoes have been whipped to delicious perfection. My mother is particular about mashed potatoes, too. She'd beat me to death with the meat tenderizer if I even mentioned that the "just add water and stir" potato flakes were two for one at Kowalski's, but she won't buy real butter if the margarine is on sale. Go figure. I tried telling her that margarine was probably invented by the same person who thought it was a good idea to use mercury, the world's most toxic heavy metal, to fill dental cavities two inches from your brain, but she still Can't Believe It's Not Butter. This is a woman who grew up in America's Dairyland and should know better. But I digress. So this Thanksgiving, before the apple pie hits the table and your uncle falls asleep in front of the big screen TV, remember this:

I am thankful for Rob Tapert, for without his genius idea to immortalize six feet of butt-kicking, leather-clad warrior, we would not spend every waking moment trying to figure out if a neighborhood bake sale would make enough profit to cover a set of leather tankards that Lucy may or may not have used during the fire-spewing scene in the first season.

I am thankful that my Brutus mannequin managed to keep his boots on and didn't dent his armor, even though his arm popped off, the dog ran off with his hand, and his skirt rode all the way up his body during the frenzy to get everything off the floor during Hurricane Ike.

I am thankful that my online checking account statement has an automated pop-up feature that says "Don't you dare spend your grocery money on that resin dagger with the shiny jewels unless you want to graze on dandelions and carpenter ants in the backyard for a week."

I am thankful for eBay, for without it and its "Xena Prop" Saved Searches function, I would be a wealthy woman today.

I am thankful that I could find where I stashed my roman soldier costume, for it made Halloween all the more fun for the kiddies that came to my door seeking candy this year. Yes it IS a cool sword! Now please step back thirteen paces and don't sneeze on my boots. No, I don't know why soldiers wore skirts instead of pants, and watch where you swing that plastic pumpkin, buddy.

I am thankful that when a large, oblong box from New Zealand, (marked "Fragile" in 72 places) arrives at my post office, that my mailman brings it to the door as if he is carrying his firstborn child. I am also thankful that he doesn't mind it when I hug him.

I am thankful that when I finalize a prop display, carefully adjusting the lighting so it hits the cabinet just right, that my neighbor does not call the police and report a rabid camel in heat after he hears my strangled battle cry of joy over the sheer perfection of the arrangement.

And I am thankful for XPH, Barbie and all of the other wonderful friends and fellow collectors I have met over the years, who have made this hobby fun and enjoyable. I hope you are all surrounded by the true blessings of family and friends. Happy

Thanksgiving, everyone!
